Professional Development:

The PD Committee feedback indicated it would not be beneficial to the success of the brain prep program to introduce a new program at the end of year. We will re-introduce the idea for the fall and/or consider other options for introducing the pilot program idea.

It was noted that Eric Kalenze, recent PD day speaker, mentioned inconclusive results for programs that tout positive test results using brain prep work. The committee will formulate a plan for how to proceed, to be ready for possible presentation in the fall. The committee will have research results to show the benefits, and how they could impact students at school.

It was suggested to offer a class(es) on brain prep training outside of school hours to interested students, particularly before end of semester exams and standardized exams such as MCAs and AP tests as an optional opportunity. This could be part of an introduction to offering it on a larger scope.

Kellg G offered to be the advocate for the brain prep initiative and communicating the Wellness Policy Committee plans to the Admin. team.

The new policy draft was discussed. The updates/changes members sent via email were made, no other changes were given at the meeting. The policy draft will go to the Board for approval at the June 2017 meeting.

The committee created several SMART goals for next school year which Candace will write up for approval and distribution before the start of the 2017-18 school year.
